The world is changing at a very quick pace. For us to survive in this rat race, it is essential for us to adapt ourselves to these changes. Hi, I am Kulvir Singh. I am from Jamshedpur, Jharkhand. I did my schooling from Loyola School.

I am an optimistic person and positivity is in my nature. I am a quick learner and I am open to new ideas. I can also adapt myself to situations and view my failures as learning opportunities. I am disciplined and systematic in my approach. I believe in planning things meticulously and value time. I am a sportsperson and sports have taught me to believe that team work is the recipe for success in all our endeavours. I have good interpersonal skills and can network with people from all walks of life. I am a good communicator and I am blessed with a reasonably good articulation skills and a sense of humour. I also like to do something for our society. I along with my friends have started a small project known as "Clean Jamshedpur, Clean India" which aims on cleaning up the city.

However I have a few shortcomings. I tend to have a short span of attention at times. I need to be a better judge of things and not accept everything at its face value. I could improve in handling pressure situations.

The current era of Digitalisation, Industry 4.0, machine learning and AI excites me and provides me with a plethora of opportunities to learn and contribute constructively. Being in VIT I have the excellent opportunity to leverage the flexi curriculum options and project based teaching along with theoretical learning. The clubs and forums also give me an opportunity to pursue areas of my interest beyond academics for my complete development. I am capable of working for long hours and I am a valuable work horse. Today's competitive world requires adaptability and I am ready to take up challenges.

However in my pursuit for academic excellence I do not end giving up my other areas of interest. I stand guard against lowering of intensity with which I wish to pursue my goals.

By knowing my strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and challenges in the industry I will be able to define a path and achieve my goals.
